QANTAS SPONSORS ABORIGINAL STUDENT AWARD

Qantas has introduced an award for outstanding achievement to be granted annually to an Aboriginal student undertaking final year studies at the University of Wollongong.

The Chief Executive of Qantas, Mr John Menadue, said the award scheme was aimed at enabling Aboriginal students to travel overseas for a specialised project, so they could return to Australia and use the experience to assist their own career development and benefit the general community.

The winner of the inaugural Qantas Award of Excellence is a Bachelor of Education student at the University, Lorraine Wicks, who will fly to Vancouver this month to attend the World Conference of Indigenous Peoples Education Conference.

The award scheme will be administered by the Aboriginal Education Unit of the University. The Unit provides a support service for some 30 Aboriginal students enrolled at the University.

Students come from throughout New South Wales and are enrolled in the faculties of Arts, Education, Science and Nursing.

"Aboriginal students face particular hurdles both gaining entry to tertiary education and then completing their degrees, but with the support of back-up services such as the Aboriginal Education Unit, the numbers of Aboriginal students successfully graduating should increase significantly," Mr Menadue said.

ABC UNIVERSITY CHALLENGE

After three days of gruelling questioning by quiz master extraordinaire Professor Lauchlan Chipman, a panel of four judges has selected a team which they believe will bring honour and glory to the University of Wollongong. They are:

Daniel Sutton — Bachelor of Science
David Cameron — Bachelor of Mathematics
John Knowles — Bachelor of Arts
Terry Pickett — Bachelor of Arts
Reserve Sam Paltridge — Postgraduate Science and Technology Studies.

The team will travel to Tasmania in August for the filming of the series.

The inaugural winner of the Qantas award of excellence is Bachelor of Education student Lorraine Wicks.

WE HAVE MOVED

Campus news is no longer located on the ground floor of the new Administration Building. We are now in Planning and Development, on the first floor — up the main staircase and to the right — just beyond the Registry.

Staff Roundup

THE LONG, HARD SLOG!

Yes, there is life after part-time study. And to prove it, seven of the University's staff graduated at the ceremonies in May. Hip, Hip, Hooray for:

Liz Brand, Bachelor of Arts, (Library Assistant, Library)

Maree Fryer, Bachelor of Arts, (Secretary, Electrical and Computer Engineering)

Bob Hogarth, Associate Diploma in Administration, (Personnel Assistant, Personnel Services)

Valri Nunn, Graduate Diploma in Management (Graduate Assistant, Planning and Marketing)

Gregory Oehm, Bachelor of Science (Honours) (Teaching Fellow, Chemistry)

Susan Smith, Bachelor of Commerce (Manager, Financial Services)

Nick Theodore, Master of Management (Lecturer, Industrial and Administrative Studies)

Serveral of the above general staff members have been assisted in completing their studies by the provision of study time. The University's study time scheme allowed them time off work to either attend lectures or undertake private study. Bob Hogarth commented "If it wasn't for the availability of study time, I wouldn't have been able to finish off the last year of my course".

Partly through gaining additional qualifications staff have been able to compete and successfully win other positions. For example, two of the recent graduates, Liz Brand and Valri Nunn, have been the successful applicants for Library Assistant and Graduate Assistant (Administration) positions respectively. Although formal qualifications are not the only aspects that are required for positions in the University, the provision of study time is an important part of the total staff and career development program.

Further details and application forms for the Study Time Scheme are available from Wendy Raikes, ext 3946.

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH AND SAFETY COMMITTEE – MEMBER VACANCY

A vacancy exists on the Committee for a member appointed by the University. Persons interested in nominating for the position, or seeking further information should contact the Committee Secretary, Lisa Jones in the Personnel Services Branch or on ext 3944.

Nominations for the vacancy close June 12.

WE WILL BE PAID THE NATIONAL WAGE INCREASE SOON!

As the respective Unions have now filed the required undertakings with the Commissioner, the National Wage Increase will be paid to all University staff who have not already received it on payday June 25. Of course, the increase will be back paid to the effective date, March 20.

eeo news....

As noted in last week's column, we are extending the deadline for applications for training as Grievance Mediators. The new deadline is June 12.

While the May 5 Campus News gave a comprehensive outline of the program, we would like to restate some basic points:

1. There will initially be five grievance mediators appointed. At least one will be from general staff and one from academic staff. The selection committee will be comprixed of members of the EEO Committee, the Director of Affirmative Action and the EEO Co-ordinator.

2. Applicants selected for training will hold these voluntary positions for two years.

3. A three to four day training course will be provided to give the appointees the appropriate background knowledge and counselling skills required.

If you are interested in becoming involved, write to the EEO Co-ordinator outlining your reasons for applying and list any relevant background and skills you may have.

General Notices

INTRODUCTION TO THE 'ALEXANDER TECHNIQUE'

Weekend workshop, Saturday—Sunday, 13 and 14 June, 10 am to 4 pm. To be held at The University of Wollongong, organised by The Centre for Continuing Professional Education.

The Alexander Technique was featured in the Good Weekend Magazine (Sydney Morning Herald) March 28. It is a re-educational and preventative method for dealing with stress and inappropriate muscle tension and all that this can imply. It aims to recover the flexibility and physical co-ordination we have as young children. This technique is now taught in over 25 countries on four continents.

Lecturers: Penelope Carr, Peter Grunwald and Maggie Young.

Teachers are accredited by the Australian Society of Teachers of the Alexander Technique which in turn is accredited by STAT (the Society of Teachers of the Alexander Technique in London).

Fee: $75. Applications close June 10. Cheque/money order payable to Uniadvice Alex. Post to The Co-ordinator, Centre for Continuing Professional Education, The University of Wollongong, PO Box 1144, Wollongong, 2500. Phone: (042) 270 484.

THE POSSIBILITY OF WEAKNESS OF WILL

Dr Robert Dunn, lecturer in Philosophy at the University of Wollongong, has just had his pirze winning thesis on The Possibility of Weakness of Will published as a book of the same name (Hackett Publishing Company Indianapolis).

Dr Dunn was the first Australian to win the Johnsonian Prize for Philosophy (1984).

The Johnsonian Prize is awarded each year in an international competition organised by the editors of the Journal of Philosophy at Columbia University, New York. It is regarded as one of the most prestigious philosophy awards.

The prize consists of US$1000 and guaranteed publication of the prize-winning manuscript.

The manuscript also won a grant-in-aid from the National Endowment for the Humanities, a United States federal agency that supports the study of fields such as philosophy, history, literature and languages.

Dr Dunn is currently working on a companion manuscript entitled "The Possibility of Self Deception: An Essay on Belief and the Will".

OPEN DAY 1987

The Chairman of the Open Day Committee, Professor Lewis Schmidt, has circulated all department, schools, faculties and units calling for ideas for University Open Day, which will be held on Sunday October 11 from 10 am to 5 pm.

The University Union has already responded with proposals for buskers, clowns, wandering minstrels and acrobats to give the day a festive appeal.

The Friends of the University will also conduct the eighth Town v Gown cricket match, a mini-market run by the Graduates Group, and the first Graduates Reunion Barbeque.

The Friends will also run a bus service around the campus ring-road throughout the day, to assist the footsore visitor.

More than 12,000 people attended Open Day in 1986. Given fair weather, a similar success is expected this year.

Meanwhile, a proposal is being made to the Academic Senate that in 1988 Open Day be held on April 17, the first Sunday of Heritage Week.

Enquiries to Giles Pickford, Secretary of the Open Day Committee on ext. 3073.

HISTORY OF AUSTRALIAN EVANGELICAL RELIGION

Visiting Fulbright Scholar and leading authority on the History of American evangelicalism, Professor D. Linder has joined a team at the University of Wollongong which is working on a Bicentennial History of Evangelicalism in Australia.

Dr Stuart Piggin from the Department of History and Politics at the University, and Chief Investigator for the project, invited Dr Linder to join the team because of the impact of American evangelicalism in Australia and to capitalise on the experience American historians gained in their own bicentenary.

Dr Linder is Professor of History at Kansas State University. He is committed to furthering evangelical scholarship and has published widely on the Reformation in general and Calvinism in particular.

Dr Linder will be at the University of Wollongong until December and will lecture at the University of Wollongong and in Queensland, Perth, Sydney and Canberra on the following topics:

1. "Religion and Politics in America Today: An Analysis of the Leadership". Note: This analysis includes Pat Robertson, Jerry Falwell, Billy Graham, Jimmy Carter, and Martin Luther Kine Jr., with references to Ronald Reagan, Jesse Jackson and Mark Hatfield.
2. "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition: Or, Ronald Reagan and the New Religious Right in America".
3. "The United States as the Last Best Hope of People on Earth: American Civil Religion and How It Works".
4. "God in the White House: Religion and the American Presidency".
5. "Piety and Power: Civil Religion and the US Presidency".
6. "The American Moses: George Washington and the Foundation of American Civil Religion".

Organisations interested in arranging lectures on any of the above topics are invited to contact Dr Linder on (042) 27 0703.

1988 – 1990 TRIENNIUM BUDGET SUBMISSIONS

Planning and Development Committee will commence considerations of the Draft Budget for the 1988 to 1990 Triennium at its meeting to be held on September 16.

The various budget units are reminded of the notice to this effect, sent to them by Mr J W Langridge, Secretary to the Planning and Development Committee, inviting them to submit requests and supporting documents in relation to recurrent expenditures and equipment needs for teaching purposes.

Budgetary units are reminded of the need to ensure their submissions reach Mr J W Langridge NOT LATER THAN Monday, August 17.

Further information please contact Susan Smith on ext. 3919.

INTEGRATED SOFTWARE FOR EXECUTIVES

A 2-day program has been arranged which is limited to 15 persons per group. The integrated package OPEN ACCESS will be used as the vehicle for the course, which will be held on August 19-20 at the Illawarra Technology Centre Computer Laboratory.

The course will cover the purpose and uses of integrated software packages, comparisons between packages on the market, spreadsheets, data management, graphics, word processing and time management using OPEN ACCESS.

The course will make participants familiar with how to use the components of OPEN ACCESS, but will only provide limited practice on each aspect of the package.

Fee is $260, $235 Employee of Member Company or $220 Personal Member. Morning and afternoon tea and lunch provided.

HIGHER SCHOOL CERTIFICATE WINTER VACATION PROGRAM

This program will be held July 6 to 10 at The University Pentagon.

The Winter Vacation Higher School Certificate program has been offered specifically for those students sitting for the Higher School Certificate in 1987.

For those students living in Wollongong it will be possible to attend on a daily basis. However, for students who live too far from the University, accommodation is available in single rooms at Weerona, Hall of Residence, at a cost of $30 per night. This cost includes dinner, bed and breakfast and is available from Sunday July 5. Lunch is available at the University cafeteria.

Lecturers for each subject have been selected from teachers suggested by Department of Education Subject Consultants, and are either consultants or teachers in their specialised fields. Each subject will be timetabled for two sessions of three hours each, and the cost for the two sessions is $10.

As part of the program for the Winter Vacation School, courses aimed at providing additional skills for students attending the program will be offered also. These are 'How to Write an Exam Essay' and 'Study Skills'. The cost for these two courses is $4 each.

The program is principally designed for Year 12 students. However Year 11 students are welcome to attend. 'Study Skills' and 'How to Write an Exam Essay' will be particularly beneficial to all students.

Further information from The Co-ordinator, The Centre for Professional Continuing Education, The University of Wollongong, PO Box 1144, Wollongong, 2500. Phone: (042) 270 531.

MIND THE MAGAZINE OF HUMAN BEHAVIOUR

Australia's first national magazine of human behaviour, "MIND", is offering twice yearly $100 awards for tertiary research writers.

Award winners will have their articles published, together with a profile of the author.

The award will cover research areas including psychology, sociology, anthropology and the health sciences.

The Publisher and Editor-in-Chief of MIND, Mr Stephen J May, who holds a Bachelor of Science degree with Honours in psychology from the University of Queensland, said the award would encourage undergraduates and postgraduate researchers to have their work recognised nationally.

Articles for the Tertiary Research Writer's Award will be judged on writing format, interest, quality of research and the ability to entertain a non-specialist, everyday reader.

Research topics could stem from any tertiary study area primarily involving aspects of human behaviour. "Mr May said.

THE NEW SUPERVISOR

The program has been developed to provide new or potential supervisors with the necessary knowledge and skills to effectively carry out their role and will be held on August 24-5-6, 9 am – 5 pm.

Lecturer Mr Kenneth Weir has qualifications in Business Administration from the NSW Institute of Technology, as well as a general educational background in psychology and management.

Mr Weir has designed, conducted and evaluated training programs for all levels of personnel. This has included working on a consultant basis with the Australian Institute of Management NSW Division involving hundreds of companies and organisations in the industrial and commercial environment.

Program fee is $260, $235 Employee of Member Company or $220 Personal Member. Further information ext 3075
