The Chancellor, The Honourable Dr R.M. Hope, AC, CMG, LLB Syd., Hon. LLD W'gong, will open the proceedings.

CONFERRING OF DEGREES AND AWARDING OF DIPLOMAS

Candidates will be admitted to degrees and awarded diplomas by the Chancellor. The Congregation may applaud as the name of each graduate is announced.

OCCASIONAL ADDRESS

Dr Shoichi Okinaga, a graduate from the School of Medicine, University of Tokyo and Doctor of Medicine from the Graduate School, University of Tokyo will deliver the Occasional Address.

Dr Okinaga is President of the Teikyo University Group which is reportedly the largest private investor in university education in the world. The Teikyo University itself has its "home" campus near Tokyo but the Group sponsors joint degree projects on campuses in a number of different places throughout the world, including Britain, the United States and the Netherlands. Dr Okinaga believes in a "global education system" which is capable of producing "world citizens".

THE THANKS

The Vice-Chancellor, Professor K. R. McKinnon, will move the vote of thanks.

CONCLUSION

*The Chancellor will close the proceedings.
The Congregation is requested to stand as the procession retires.*

THE CEREMONY OF GRADUATION

The University of Wollongong has offered university studies for nearly 30 years and is known for its energy and innovation in fields ranging from creative arts to communications technology. This University looks towards the 21st century but, in the customs and ceremony of a graduation, it asserts its inheritance from the first Universities of the 12th and 13th centuries. For nearly 900 years, universities have educated and trained leaders of society and produced ideas and instruments of great social and scientific change. Yet, they proudly retain medieval traditions which still visibly celebrate both the achievements of the scholar and graduate and the universities' long commitment to the search for knowledge.

The academic titles and terms of address, the music and, especially, the academic dress distinguish and colour a graduation ceremony. The gowns are modified versions of medieval university dress: all masters and scholars were then members of the clergy. This university has chosen blue gowns for all diplomas and for the Bachelor and Master degrees. The hoods, originally a useful head cover, are lined with different coloured silks and trims to denote the type of award – for example, the Bachelor of Arts hood is lined with gold silk and the Commerce hood with emerald green. The degree graduates wear blue, tasselled trenchers or mortar boards which were introduced in 17th century Oxford and Cambridge.

The dress for the doctoral degrees of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) and Doctor of Creative Arts (DCA) is distinguished by red facing on the blue gown and black velvet Tudor bonnets with a red tassel for the PhD and a blue one for the DCA. The higher doctorates – Doctor of Science and Doctor of Letters – have a red gown faced with blue and, again, a Tudor bonnet tasselled with silver and gold respectively.

The Chancellor, gowned in black brocade trimmed with gold lace and braid, is the chief dignitary and leader of the university community. The Chancellor presides over meetings of the Governing Body, the University Council, and confers degrees and diplomas in Council's name.

A graduation ceremony is in many ways an historical pageant but it is above all a celebration of individual achievement and the continuing role of the university.
