10.00 am, FRIDAY, 8th OCTOBER, 1993

IN

THE UNION HALL

COMMERCE, EDUCATION AND LAW

ORDER OF PROCEEDINGS

ARMS OF THE UNIVERSITY

The principal elements incorporated in the Arms of the University are the blue of the sea, the gold of the sand and the red of the Illawarra flame tree. The open book often used for educational institutions has also been included.

The blazon is: "Azure a Book expanded Argent bound and clasped Or on a Chief of the last three Cinquefoils pierced Gules".

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

In the medieval tradition, the mace is a symbol of the University and the Chancellor's authority as its head, and is carried before the Chancellor on formal occasions such as graduation ceremonies. It is carried on the right shoulder of the mace bearer.

The University of Wollongong mace is constructed from stainless steel and the head is a stylised form of the Illawarra Flame Tree flower from the University's coat of arms. The exterior surface of the mace has a rough finish, symbolising the heavy industrial area of Wollongong, whilst the stamen of the 'flower' is smooth and highly polished to indicate the University's position as a centre for the city and the region. The mace also contains three timber inserts made from one of the three original Moreton Bay figtrees which were a feature of the campus and were estimated to be 500 years old.

The mace was both designed and made by Gino Sanguineti, a local artist, and presented to the University in 1988.

THE CEREMONY OF GRADUATION

The University of Wollongong has offered university studies for more than 30 years and is known for its energy and innovation in fields ranging from creative arts to communications technology. This University looks towards the 21st century but, in the customs and ceremony of a graduation, it asserts its inheritance from the first Universities of the 12th and 13th centuries. For nearly 900 years, universities have educated and trained leaders of society and produced ideas and instruments of great social and scientific change. Yet, they proudly retain medieval traditions which still visibly celebrate both the achievements of the scholar and graduate and the universities' long commitment to the search for knowledge.

The academic titles and terms of address, the music and, especially, the academic dress distinguish and colour a graduation ceremony. The gowns are modified versions of medieval university dress: all masters and scholars were then members of the clergy. This university has chosen blue gowns for all diplomas and for the Bachelor and Masters degrees. The hoods, originally a useful head cover, are lined with different coloured silks and trims to denote the type of award – for example, the Bachelor of Arts hood is lined with gold silk and the Commerce hood with emerald green. The degree graduates wear blue, tasselled trenchers or mortar boards which were introduced in 17th century Oxford and Cambridge.

The dress for the doctoral degrees of Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) and Doctor of Creative Arts (DCA) is distinguished by red facing on the blue gowns and black velvet Tudor Bonnets with a red tassel for the PhD and a blue one for the DCA. The higher doctorates of Science, Letters and Laws have red gowns faced with blue and a Tudor bonnet tasselled with silver, gold and purple respectively.

The Chancellor, gowned in black brocade trimmed with gold lace and braid, is the chief dignitary and leader of the university community. The Chancellor presides over meetings of the Governing Body, the University Council, and confers degrees and diplomas in Council's name.

A graduation ceremony is in many ways an historical pageant but is above all a celebration of individual achievement and the continuing role of the university.
