Maths Community Service Initiative

The Department of Mathematics has taken an interesting step in creating the Wollongong Study Group with Industry, another example of the University contributing to the problem solving capacity of the region.

Professor John Blake reports that the format of the meeting is based on the successful Oxford Study Group with Industry meeting which has been held annually at Oxford for the last 15 years. The plan for the meeting will be for the problems to be described in a brief presentation at the beginning, afterwards splitting into two groups (the O.R. group and the Physical Modelling group) to discuss the problems in much greater depth in a workshop environment. The meeting will conclude with a summary session in which the main results and conclusions of the day's activities will be presented.

The first meeting will be held on Friday, 26 November, from 9.30 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. in Rooms 204 and 206 in the Mathematics Department.

Readers who plan to attend the meeting, should phone the Secretary of the Mathematics Department, Mrs

Kerrie Gamble (042) 282878, notifying her of attendance. At the same time, they should indicate if they will be attending the Barbeque in the Sports Pavilion for which there will be a small charge ($2.00).

Preventing a Scientific "Dark Age"

The future direction of Australian research - scientific, technological and social - will be discussed at a forum at the University of Melbourne on Friday 3 December. Those interested should ring Cindy Hogan on (03) 347-1927.

Senator Peter Baume, Commonwealth Minister for Education, will open the forum. The forum, Future Directions for Australian Research, is organized by the Council of Australian Postgraduate Associations. It will begin at 2.00 p.m. in Queen's College.

Speakers will include Mr Barry Jones, MP; Mr Campbell Coe, Director of Research, BHP Melbourne; Mr Jim Hyde, CAPA; and Professor Ray Martin, of the Australian Vice-Chancellor's Committee Research Committee and Vice-Chancellor of Monash University.

Research workers in industry and government and postgraduate students from all over Australia will attend.

Mr Russell Jacobs, President of CAPA, announcing the forum, said that research activity and training in Australia was at a critical stage.

"In the present economic climate, with reduced funding for research in all sectors, there is a major concern that the nation's research capacity will be weakened in the next 10 years.

"I hope that this forum will highlight the needs of the research worker in training - the postgraduate student."

Mr Jacobs said the higher education sector was responsible for about 22 per cent of Australian research expenditure. It carried out the major part of the basic research - and 40 per cent of university research was carried out by postgraduates.

Mr Jacobs said: "Basic research is an integral part of the nation's development. It provides the foundation of knowledge upon which applied research and experimental development are based.

"In the universities there is an intelligent, readily available pool of people anxious for training and ready to serve.

"I hope the forum will help to formulate policies which will nurture this valuable national resource.

"Without continuing support for postgraduate students Australian research - scientific, technological and social - may well face a new "dark age" in which we become dependent on overseas sources for ideas and innovation", he added.

GRADUATES REUNION

About seventy people attended the first graduates reunion on Friday, 12 November. A great night was had by all and Phillip Brown of Parramatta won the Chairman's Prize of a bottle of Madeira wine for bringing the largest number of people with him to the Reunion (eleven in all).

Professor Chipman moved a toast to the Graduates. He gave a personal view of developments in the University over the last five years, and emphasized the important role of the graduates in supporting the University, and in electing some of the members of the Governing Body of the University.

Ald. Keith Phipps, the Chairman of the Graduates Group within the Friends, moved the toast to the University. In doing so he outlined the Graduates Group programme of support for the University.

Membership of the Group is $10 p.a. or $40 Life Membership. Members are posted "Campus News" fortnightly, together with a variety of information about the University, and they are invited to a number of University functions. Ald. Phipps expressed the hope that more academic staff would begin to see the potential value of the graduates group soon, and that they would get behind it; especially those departments that already have strong links with their graduates but which are poorly represented in the Graduates Group and the Friends.

Ald. Phipps warmly welcomed the following new members to the Friends on the night of the reunion.

Michael Askew, Mt Keira; Phil Brown, North Parramatta; Joanne Collison, Lakemba; Christopher Diment, Corrimal; Des Jamieson, Wollongong; Neil Marrott, Canberra; Victoria Potter, Lithgow; Tim Turnbull, North Parramatta; Graeme Watchirs, Wollongong.

NEW DAM

Having completed the construction of a reinforced concrete dam across the creek adjacent to the builders' storage shed and having excavated and levelled several thousand tonnes of earth, the Engineering Department are anxiously awaiting rain. Not just your casual shower but nice, heavy rain for several weeks. It will take this to produce the 5000 K.litres which Peter McNamara estimates it will take to fill the resultant lake, give or take a litre or two (due to displacement by fish etc.)

This lake will act as a beautiful back-drop to the proposed amphitheatre on the south bank and will also tidy up an otherwise marshy and weed-ridden area.

UNDERGRADUATE LAW IN LONDON

A booklet on undergraduate law at the University of London is available from the Friends Office in the Hut.

CRICKET CLUB FUNDRAISING

The Unversity Cricket Club faces a major item of expenditure this season because of the need to construct a fence around our new oval. This ground will be of considerable benefit to the club both to first and second graders, for whom it will be home turf, and to lower graders who will in future play at Teachers College oval rather than University Oval.

The committee feels that the most effective way to raise the finance necessary to build the fence is to have a single major fund raising project to which all members can contribute. To this end the committee has decided that a raffle of a video recorder should be conducted. For this raffle to raise the desired amount of money ($2000) we will need maximum support from you.

Geoff Bailey and Geoff Mettam have the task of organising this project and they will be selling tickets up to Saturday, 18 December, 1982. Provided all the tickets have been sold the draw will take place during an "after the match" B.B.Q. on that date.
