HAPPY TENTH ANNIVERSARY UW

HAPPY TENTH ANNIVERSARY UW

The University Council has decided that the 10th Anniversary of the University of Wollongong should be recognized, and has invited the Friends of the University of Wollongong to direct the activities.

The Board of the Friends will be considering this proposal and will come up with a set of ideas shortly.

More news on 10th Anniversary events will be published from time to time.

JUSTICE KIRBY - PUBLIC LECTURE

Justice Michael Kirby CMG will give a public lecture at the University on the topic "Work and Leisure: Must Australia be Boring?".

The lecture is being given for the benefit of the Elderhostel classes currently being run at the University; but because of its importance it is being thrown open to the public.

The lecture will be held at 8 p.m. on Friday 15 February 1985 in Pentagon Theatre 2.

Justice Kirby CMG has Bachelor of Arts, Master of Laws and Bachelor of Economics degrees from the University of Sydney. He is the first Chairman of the Australian Law Reform Commission, a member of the International Commission of Jurists; and President of the Court of Appeals of the NSW Supreme Court.

UNIX CONFERENCE

The Department of Computing Science at the University of Wollongong will host the 1985 Summer Meeting of the Australian UNIX systems User Group on February 11 and 12. The Conference Program consists of a series of technical and semi-technical papers as well as tutorial sessions on topics of interest relating to UNIX and UNIX-like systems. Keynote speaker for the conference is Mr. Richard Miller from Canada who successfully carried out the first part of the UNIX operating system in Wollongong in 1977.

The Conference will be attended by people from Australia and South East Asia with commercial and academic interests.

The Conference will also host an exhibition of UNIX related computer systems and software ranging from single user desk-top P.C.s to systems supporting more than 50 users.

People who are interested in seeing UNIX systems in operation are invited to attend the equipment exhibition.

Enquiries regarding the exhibit should be directed to Gary Kelly on (042) 270813. General enquiries about the conference program and registration should be directed to Ross Nealon on (042) 270802.

PROFESSOR ARNOLD APPOINTED TO CHAIR

Late last year Professor Peter Arnold was appointed to the Chair of Mechanical Engineering. His appointment followed from the death of Sam Marshall, the first Professor of Mechanical Engineering in Wollongong.

Dr. Arnold was born in 1938 and from the University of New South Wales received the degrees of Bachelor of Engineering with First Class Honours in 1962 and Doctor of Philosophy in 1968. Dr. Arnold is a Member of Institution of Engineers (UK) and a Fellow of Institution of Engineers (Australia).

Prior to joining the academic staff of this University in 1962, Dr. Arnold had been a Cadet Engineer at Australian Iron and Steel Pty. Ltd. A lectureship was held until 1970 when Dr. Arnold was promoted to Senior Lecturer and in 1976 he was promoted to Reader. Since 1981, Dr. Arnold has been Chairman of the Department of Mechanical Engineering.

During his service, Dr. Arnold has proceeded on overseas study leave on four occasions and has had many short visits to attend conferences and to visit universities and industry.

Dr. Arnold has an extensive record of publications and consultancies and has attracted in excess of $500,000 in research grants.

LEISURE COAST TRIATHLON HEADS FOR THE TOP

The third National Australia Bank Leisure Coast Triathlon will be held on 31 March, 1985, and it looks like becoming the biggest in the State. It is already the second largest.

In 1985 it will be held in conjunction with the State Triathlon Titles and organisers believe that it will attract a field of 1200-1600. Participants in 1984 totalled 850 and the first Triathlon in 1983 attracted 283 athletes.

On the 15 January at a luncheon in the University Union a cheque for $1250 was presented to the Deputy Chancellor and Friends of the University Director, the Honourable Laurie Kelly, by the Triathlon Committee and the National Australia Bank.

The funds will be donated by the Friends to the Department of Computing Science in recognition for the contribution that the Department made to the 1984 Triathlon organisation.

PREMIER APPOINTS DES DAVIS CHAIRMAN OF STATE ARTS BODY

Mr. Des Davis, Senior Lecturer in English Literature and Drama and Artistic Director of Theatre South, has been appointed by the Premier and Minister for the Arts, Mr. Wran, to a two-year appointment as Chairman of the New South Wales Cultural Grants Advisory Council.

The Council is a body of professional Arts personnel set up to advise the Premier on the funding of the Arts in New South Wales and related matters.

Former Chairmen have been John Clarke, Principal of the National Institute of Dramatic Art, Ken Tribe, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Nimrod Theatre Company and John Bailey, Principal of Sydney College of the Arts.

Among the present Council members are Ms. Ruth Cracknell, A.M., Mr. Kim Williams, former Manager of Musica Viva and now Executive Director of the Australian Film Commission, Mr. Harlan Hall, Director of Sydney's Maritime Museum and Ms. Pat Rolfe, Literary Editor of The Bulletin.

Mr. Wran expressed his "appreciation of the contribution (Mr Davis had) made as a member of the Cultural Grants Advisory Council" and praised his "valuable contribution to the development of the Arts in this State".

WOLLONGONG PROFESSOR HONOURED

Professor Linda Viney, Head of the Department of Psychology at the University of Wollongong, has been invited to serve as a member of the National Health and Medical Research Council Research Committee for at least the next three years.

One of the most important things this committee does is to develop plans for further medical and dental research in Australia and oversee its quality and performance.

Professor Viney is unique on the committee in being a researcher from an area other than medical and dental science. She adds this accolade to a host of other achievements. As well as a distinguished career in Psychology, Professor Viney is editor of the 'Australian Psychologist' and a member of the Commonwealth Postgraduate Course Awards Committee.

LEAL TO WRITE FOR 'LE MONDE'

Professor Barry Leal, Chairman of the Department of European Languages, has been invited by the authoritative Paris daily newspaper, 'Le Monde', to be its correspondent in Australia. One of his articles has already appeared (23rd November) and at least two more have been requested, one to be published prior to and the other just after 1st December.

'Le Monde's' requests and the invitation to Professor Leal are indications of a French interest in Australia that has been steadily growing in recent times, particularly in the last 18 months. Not long ago Federal elections in Australia would have rated only a brief mention in the French press, but now happenings in this country attract much greater attention. 'Le Monde' is consequently anxious to have a correspondent in Australia who is fluent in spoken and written French, understands the local situation and is able to produce articles for transmission at short notice.

Professor Leal hopes, through his periodic articles, to make Australia's social and political affairs better known in France and to present them in a way that will be accessible to the educated French public.

INFORMATION OVERLOAD

"The God of nature and the soul has been ousted by the God of TECHNIQUE", according to Stephen Hill, the Professor of Sociology and the Director of the Centre for Technology and Social Change at the University of Wollongong: "and the ten commandments have been replaced by the four commandments:

Thou shalt bow down to efficiency. Because it can be done, it must be.

Thou shalt adjust; and Thou art not responsible."

These insights into the information technology revolution were discussed at a public lecture by Professor Hill on Friday, 1st February, 1985.

The lecture was part of the Elderhostel programme for the 1985 Summer Session.

It discussed the "passive dependence" of society on a "world and a morality that no-one seems to control any more."

Professor Hill has identified the problem as modern society's "enchantment with the power to control our world with the new technologies ... particularly information technology."

He claims that because of the speed of growth in these technologies "the world of meaning is one of dependence, transience and superficiality as there is no time to grasp anything deeper."

"It is a world ruled by technique and efficiency rather than by human understanding and wisdom," he said.

Seminars

CASUARINA TORULOSA DIE-BACK?

People may have noticed over the past few months the odd dead branches on the tree Casuarina torulosa.

Initially not a great deal of concern was given to this problem as trees can often lose limbs due to many different reasons including wind damage or shading from above, etc. The die-back has gradually increased to a stage where 10% of the branches on some trees are now affected. The Botanic Gardens has a similar problem with this species.

The Landscape Department is now taking this problem quite seriously and has sent branch specimens to the Forestry Commission for a diagnosis. More samples have been asked for including some root parts of the affected trees. A final report from the Forestry Commission is awaited and it is hoped that the Commission may be able to give some advice on this problem.

Casuarina species are generally free of insect and fungi problems until old age.

Casuarina torulosa can be seen growing in the Union Carpark, eastern side of Central Square, on the hill west of the Library, on the edge of the road between Administration and Maintenance Workshop.

Uniadvice has received a pleasing response for its first ever effort in overseas trade promotion. Following a display of Illawarra products at the International Exposition for Technology Transfer in Brighton (UK) sixteen firms or organisations have requested information on local products.

The inquiries came from representatives from Britain, China, Canada, Denmark, Holland, France and the United States. The display included computer products, materials handling processes, water processing technology and robotics hardware, and has established the competitiveness of local products and technology in overseas markets if initial interest is any indication.

The Manager of Uniadvice, Mr. Peter Sophios, said "Uniadvice still has a lot to learn in the field of overseas product promotion, but our first effort has proven both interesting and rewarding."

"Our representative at the expo was Associate Professor Noel Kennon from the Department of Metallurgy at the University of Wollongong. The arrangements for the display were made by Uniadvice with the assistance of Mr. Ron Jackson from the Department of Trade", Mr. Sophios said.

"Only local products were displayed and in each case the resources of the University of Wollongong had assisted in Research and Development of the products. This is one of the benefits of utilising the resources available through Uniadvice, but would not preclude small businesses from participating in future Uniadvice displays," Mr. Sophios said.
