- * Council approved the Diploma in Education course for 1975 but referred to the Vice-Chancellor the following matters:
 - (a) is the Diploma in Education, as proposed, for 1975 only?
 - (b) is such a (diploma) course proper for the University in view of its vocational content and the existence of the Wollongong Institute of Education which provides courses in teacher education?
 - (c) is a Diploma in Education as proposed viable in 1975 and by implication for subsequent years?
- * Council appointed Assistant Registrar, Mr. B. C. Moldrich, a Returning Officer for elections to be conducted this year for units in the academic structure.

REPORT ON OPEN TERTIARY EDUCATION IS TABLED

The Australian Minister for Education, Mr. Kim Beazley, tabled the final report of the Open University Committee in Parliament on February 20. The committee prepared the Report, "Open Tertiary Education in Australia", under the chairmanship of Professor Peter Karmel, Chairman of the Universities Commission. The report has yet to be considered by the Government. The committee's major recommendations are:

- * The establishment during 1975 of a National Institute of Open Tertiary Education as a statutory body with the general objective of expanding opportunities in tertiary education for all sections of the community.
- * The development of a network of university and college off-campus courses, study centres and libraries, by existing or new institutions willing to assume a major commitment in such work; the new university at Albury-Wodonga should, from its inception, assume a special responsibility for the provision of open education.
- * Investigation by the Universities Commission and the Commission on Advanced Education as to whether further assistance may be necessary for the support of educational services to part-time and external students in universities and colleges.

THE COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS ARE SUMMARISED IN PAGES 97-100 OF THE REPORT.

DANGER ON BUILDING SITES

Members of the University may be unaware that campus building sites are under builders' exclusive control. During construction, builders have the sole legal right of access and have the power to prosecute unauthorised persons on site. This is an unlikely event, but a real danger exists of damage to vehicles parked on the sites and of injury to people who walk on or through the sites. It is hoped that staff and students will co-operate in this matter. (J. F. Bell Estate Manager.)

WOMEN GRADUATES' CONFERENCE AT UNIVERSITY

The Regional Conference of the N.S.W. Association of University Women Graduates (Illawarra Branch), will be held between May 16 and 18 at the University of Wollongong.

The Conference Topic will be "Woman's Image". Margaret Tebbutt, co-author of "Woman and Society", will deliver the keynote address. Topics will be divided into three subheadings which will be discussed in depth in groups of about 30. (Members will be asked to nominate their order of preference for the groups they wish to join.)

The subheadings are:

Women and the Media, to be led by Dr. Patricia Edgar (co-author of "Media She").

Legal Fact and Social Fiction, to be led by Miss Aline Fenwick, a practising solicitor.

Responsibility of the Education Woman, to be led by Miss Dorothy Shackley, Headmistress, Smith's Hill Girls' High School.

These groups will be in session for most May 17; at the joint session in the morning of May 18, the leaders will present a summary of discussions and recommendations for action.

The Conference will open on the night of May 16 with registration and the opening address in the Common Room of International House, where many of the visitors will be staying. Business sessions on the mornings of May 17 and 18 will be held in the University's Lecture Theatre and seminar rooms. The University Union will cater for lunches. The Conference Dinner, at which the Vice-Chancellor will give the after-dinner address, will be held at The Wollongong Club on the night of May 17. There will be a tour of the campus for visitors after the barbecue lunch on May 18.

GRADUATE CONFERENCE PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED

Mr. R. W. Holt, representing Convocation of the University of Sydney, has been re-elected President of the Australian University Graduate Conference. The Conference, which embodies delegates and observers from convocations, alumni associations and other graduate bodies connected to universities in Australia, held its ninth annual meeting at the University of Melbourne over the Australia Day long weekend. Mr. Holt is an Instructor at the New South Wales College of Law in Sydney.

Other Officers elected in Melbourne were: Vice-Presidents, Professor K. R. Dutton (Convocation, University of Newcastle), Mr. A. S. Fraser (Convocation of Flinders University of South Australia); Executive Secretary, Mr. A. J. Mason (University of Sydney); International Liaison Officer, Mr. R. A. Corin (Alumni Association of the University of New South Wales); Education Officer, Brother M. J. Lynch, Representative on the Graduate Careers Council, Mr. W. H. Schneider, (both University of Adelaide Graduates' Union); Press Officer, Mr. J. W. Armstrong (Convocation, University of Newcastle). Mr. Holt reported that there was no immediate prospect of an increase in graduate unemployment in Australia. In the second half of 1974 some private and government employers had said that their intake of graduates coming on to the labour market at the end of 1974 would be drastically reduced, but none of the University or C.A.E. Careers and Appointments Services had indicated that they expected to have substantially more unemployed graduates on their books in the first quarter of this year than last year.

Some State public services had officially suspended their graduate recruiting schemes, although individual departments were still advertising for graduates, and some Australian government departments that had previously announced that they would not be taking on new graduates had in the last few days indicated that they were again recruiting.

National statistics on graduate employment tended to be sketchy, and it would be some weeks before the annual survey by The Graduate Careers Council of Australia on the employment of graduates (as at 30 April last year) were published.

"However, we understand that there are unlikely to be any dramatic differences between the 1974 figures and those for 1973, when just over 6% of new graduates were reported as being unemployed or unavailable for employment", Mr. Holt said.

NURSING HOME NOW OPEN

The Illawarra Society for Crippled Children opened its nursing home for handicapped children at the Crippled Children's Centre, 362 Crown Street, Wollongong, on 3 February, 1975.

Long or short term accommodation is offered to handicapped children up to about 18 years of age, though this upper age limit will be flexible depending on the individual circumstances. Admission will be through medical practitioner referral and there will be a small accommodation charge to be met by patients, depending on the family financial situation.

Initially, only 26 beds will be established; physiotherapy and occupational therapy will be available, and transport will be provided for those children attending local schools other than that at the Crippled Children's Centre.

The Home is conveniently situated in Wollongong, with buses passing the door, and is only a short walk from the railway station. Additional information may be obtained by contacting the Society's Social Worker, Mrs. Fisher, or Matron Cook, either at 362 Crown Street or by telephone (28 7099).

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Campus News,

To all your readers and those who just look at the pictures, I extend an apology. Yours sincerely,

R.G.T. SOUTHALL.
Head, Department of English.
