THE HOTELS OF BULLI

(From “Sydney Mail” of April 24, 1897).

“Bulli is well provided with hotel and other similar accommodation. The hostelries consist of the Tourist, Railway, Star of the Sea, Royal, and last and chief Dickson’s Family Hotel, situate close to the railway station, and a prominent landmark to the traveller as the trains draw up to the station, as also are its uniformed porter and vehicle in waiting, which are the first items to catch the visitor’s eye as he alights on the platform . . . “
