

BHP PROVIDES MAJOR CONCERT SPONSORSHIP

Mr Jerry Ellis, General Manager, has announced that BHP Slab and Plate has joined the Friends of the University in sponsoring the Gala Concert in the Town Hall on 12th October, 1985.

He has said that two very important anniversaries are being celebrated this year, the University's tenth and BHP's one hundredth. The two organizations make a major impact on the economy of Wollongong and it is fitting that together they should sponsor one of the cultural highlights of 1985.

The dollars have started to pour into the Friends office this week. Approximately $7,000 will be needed to fund the concert, the programme for which is published in the Friends column of "Campus News".

WHERE DO OUR STUDENTS COME FROM?

By Trevor Brew

An analysis of students by home residence and term residence postcodes has provided some interesting information on the sources of our students. Of 2,674 students in first year, 1,279 or 47.8% came from the Illawarra region, indicating that the University is continuing to fulfil a very important role in providing tertiary education for locals. When our total student population is counted the figures reveal that 52.5% came from the Illawarra. A further 13% or 830 students live in the Illawarra during term time to attend the University. Thus 65.5% of our student population lives in the Illawarra.

Significant Numbers Commuting

As might be expected, 341 (5.3%) of our 356 students originating from the Sutherland area commute. Similarly, 266 (4.2%) of 316 from the St. George area and 312 (4.9%) of 342 from the Campbelltown to Goulburn area commute. There are also 180 (2.8%) still residing in the Western Suburbs, 139 (2.2%) in the Liverpool region, 150 (2.3%) in the Northern Suburbs and 133 (2.1%) in the South Coast (Nowra to Bega) during term time.

External Students

Students who provide a term residence address away from the Illawarra and commutable distances would mainly be the external studies and some postgraduates.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR

Dr M.C. Shamanthaka Sastry, from the Central Food Technological Research Institute (CFTRI), Mysore, has arrived to study the seed proteins of chick pea with Dr David Murray of the Biology Department. His visit is supported by a grant from the India-Australia Bilateral Exchange Agreement.

Dr Sastry has been working on various aspects of seed production and processing at CFTRI since 1963 and has published 35 papers. His particular interests are:

- (1) the processing of oilseeds, including sesame, sunflower, soybean and peanut;
- (2) evaluation of seed protein quality;
- (3) utilization of seed protein isolates for human consumption.

For his work on the preparation of edible protein concentrates from dehulled sesame seeds, he received Gardner's International Award from the Association of Food Scientists and Technologists (India) in 1980.

A seminar describing current research at CFTRI will be presented by Dr Sastry at 10.30 am on Wednesday, October 9 (1.G25) and all interested are welcome to attend.

Letters

Dear Sir,

We were disappointed to discover the University implicitly condones (by publication of an article in "Campus News") the "Miss Wollongong Showgirl Quest" as this is considered offensive by many women across the campus.

Karen Wilcox, Jan Sullivan, T. Tindall, S. Hockley.

Editor's Note:

Many kinds of groups, societies and associations use Campus News to inform the public about their activities. The Editor tries not to exclude any of them, and denies that providing such a service implies that the University, or the Editor, supports or condones any cause.

1985 PARTICIPATION & EQUITY PROJECT — PROGRESS REPORT

The University of Wollongong Working Group on Participation and Equity has completed the developmental work on its 1985 Project, in spite of the poor response across campus to the request for submission. This has involved investigation into the participation of disadvantaged groups and hence an examination of the inequalities of the education system in the Illawarra.

The goal of equal access to higher education for all groups in the community will not be achieved via short term projects, but rather, requires a long term commitment. In the short term, however, much can be achieved through pilot programmes which concentrate on the needs of particular groups, realizing that the disadvantaged are not a homogeneous social group.

Limited funding in 1985 has led to the development of a project aimed at increasing the participation of two groups currently underrepresented at the University of Wollongong.

The Working Group has decided to focus on a problem which it feels is common to a number of disadvantaged groups, that is, lack of formal educational qualifications and pre-requisite knowledge. A pilot programme has been designed to address this problem, and will focus on the position of bridging or preparation courses for aboriginals and for women.

In late September the University introduced a Bridging Course for Aboriginals, to provide them with basic numeracy, literacy and study skills, and hopes to follow this with a University Preparation Course, designed to provide Aboriginal People with a mechanism for entrance to University, in addition to the background knowledge and skills.

The University of Wollongong is also developing recruitment strategies (including schools visits, information handouts, community liaison) to encourage the participation of women in non-traditional careers, in addition to designing a University Preparation Course as mentioned above.

If funding continues, these courses will be introduced in 1986.

For further information, please contact Karen Wilcox, ext 3918.

$12 buys you: 3 course dinner; drinks during dinner; wine, women/men and song until 1 a.m.; presentation of many competition and perpetual trophies.

All welcome but limited tickets available for sale. Please book through Manning Hinch outlets or the Sports Association.

TELEPHONES

Staff will be pleased to know that a new internal telephone directory will soon be available. As the preparation of the directory is now computer-aided it will be possible to provide updates more regularly and frequently.

While on the subject of telephones — it appears that some staff may not be aware of some of the very helpful facilities available such as 'diversion' and 'pursue me'. Details of the functions and facilities of the PABX are provided with the internal telephone directory and copies will again be provided with the new directory. Regular users of the facilities find them very helpful and all staff are encouraged to make use of them.

It also appears that some callers to the University are sometimes experiencing delays in having their calls answered by the switchboard. A Telecom traffic survey has shown that the switchboard has more than enough incoming lines to cope with the busiest time and also that the operator response and connection rate is satisfactory. Therefore, it seems possible that some callers could, at particularly busy times, be frustrated by the automatic queuing system. This system automatically queues incoming calls for operator connection. If, during a particularly busy time, a caller becomes impatient — hangs up — then immediately redials — the second call is re-queued and, of course, loses the original position and the delay could therefore be exacerbated.

To overcome this problem Telecom has been requested to investigate the possibility of installing a device which interrupts unanswered incoming calls with a recorded message of appropriate advice, etc., (perhaps music). If it is possible to install such a device frustration should be eased and PR improved.

In the meantime it would be helpful if staff could inform regular callers of the problem, suggest patience and encourage greater use of direct in-dialling where possible.

Delays may also be more prevalent during meal breaks, etc., when the switchboard has only one operator. To overcome this problem some administrative staff are being trained to provide back-up assistance when necessary.

To overcome another related problem it will no longer be possible for the switchboard operators to accept private trunk calls after 4.45 p.m. (noting that the Switchboard closes at 5.00 p.m.). This is necessary because it often takes the Telecom operators more than 15 minutes to call back with cost details of the calls placed.

For further information about telephones and the PABX please contact the Buildings and Grounds Section (ext 3083 or 3084).

Research Grants

UNIVERSITY RESEARCH GRANTS – MINOR GRANTS

Applications are now being called for both new and continuing Minor Grants for 1986. Minor grant projects are those which do not require a research assistant for more than half time. (In 1985 the maximum salaries allocation was $8000 and/or funding for materials, travel, books, etc.).

The deadline for applications is 5.00 pm Wednesday 30 October, 1985, and six copies should be submitted. Application forms can be obtained from the Planning and Development Section, or by telephoning ext 3079.

It would be appreciated if applications could be submitted as early as possible to give members of the committee more time to assess the applications.

UNIVERSITY RESEARCH GRANTS – PROGRAMMING ASSISTANCE

Researchers are also reminded that computer programming time can be requested on University Research Grants, either singularly or in conjunction with requests for other funding.

Anyone intending to request programming help should first see Ian Piper in the Computer Centre, ext 3828, who will help them size the project and prepare their submission.

EVALUATION FOR A PRE COURSE ENGLISH TRANSITION PROGRAM FOR INDONESIAN FELLOWS

As part of Australia's development assistance program, which aims to assist developing nations in promoting the economic and social advancement of their peoples, the Australian Development Assistance Bureau is seeking the service of a short term expert/experts to evaluate a short English Transition Course mounted for Indonesian fellows by the English Preparation Centre in Sydney from 13 January to 10 February 1986 and subsequent follow up of students towards the end of the first term/semester at their academic institution.

Objectives of the study are to provide:

- (a) descriptive information on the program, including objectives, activities, outcomes, students, staff, resources, costs and administration;
- (b) discussion of the problems and issues concerning the program;
- (c) conclusions and recommendations on possible future transition programs; and the duties will involve information gathering and observation of the program activities of the course.

Any interested persons contact Tom Moore (ext 3386) or Trevor Smith (ext 3079).

CARNEGIE CORPORATION

One of the top funding priorities of the Carnegie Corporation is the resolution of conflict and the promotion of peace. The Corporation provided $20,150,373 for projects in 1984.

Research News

BILATERAL SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY AGREEMENTS

These agreements, which are administered by the Department of Science are currently under review. It is thought likely that the review will result in a liberalisation of the regulations presently governing them.

Currently the agreements are between Australia and the following countries: Japan, U.S.A., Mexico, The Federal Republic of Germany, India, The People's Republic of China.

It is possible that an agreement will be signed with Israel shortly.

At the moment activities in the following areas are given priority:

Biotechnology
Biomedical technology
Scientific instrumentation
Information technology
Advanced materials technology
Advanced manufacturing technology
Marine science

However, it appears that projects in other areas are considered for funding and it is thought likely that the current review will result in the elimination of specified areas of enquiry.

Approximately $500,000 is distributed annually under the agreements and it appears that staff of the University of Wollongong have not taken advantage of them in the past.

Activities supported under the agreements are:

- (i) Co-operative research involving visits by scientists and technologists to the other country concerned to work on joint research projects;
- (ii) Seminars/workshops in each country to define the state of the art in a particular field and to formulate joint research projects.

Funding support is normally limited to economy return air fares and support for living costs for the collaborating scientists and technologists. This may include payment of a per diem allowance.

Support is not available for attendance at general international seminars or conferences.

Application for activities between January - 30th June 1987 will close on 1st April, 1985. A copy of the existing guidelines may be had from Trevor Smith (ext 3079) or Tom Moore (ext 3386).

FRIENDS APPLY FOR CEP PROJECT FUNDING

The Friends of the University have applied for CEP funding of two projects, one in the Faculty of Engineering, and the other in the School of Creative Arts.

A CEP grant of $78,744.54 has been sought, part of a total of $107,148.62 project to create a mobile display on the University's Faculty of Engineering.

The primary target group will be Illawarra and Shoalhaven secondary school students enrolled in Years 11 and 12, and who are contemplating careers in the Engineering occupations, particularly female students. The lack of women enrolling in engineering is of particular concern to the University.

The display will be mounted on stands for easy transport and assembly and will include literature and models. The display will also be used to inform the general public and industry at special functions such as Open Days and other local occasions.

CEP participants employed in this project will be given valuable work experience in technical areas at levels slightly above those gained in 'trade' training. Clerical Assistants and Typists will be exposed to word processing technology, as well as general office skills. Project activities will involve model and display preparation, and the collation and preparation of literary materials and will give opportunity to unemployed metal tradesmen such as fitters, turners, toolmakers and welders.

The second CEP application is for $82,142.67 as part of a $107,984.97 project which will enhance the community arts establishment and the internal activities of the School of Creative Arts.

This will be achieved by employing six people in administrative, promotional and technical positions. The project will help take the School of Creative Arts out to the people and assist in some of the technical aspects of ceramics and printmaking and picture framing.

CAN A PROBLEM BASED CURRICULUM BE DEVELOPED FOR EDUCATION IN ANY PROFESSION?

Dr Grahame Felitti from the Faculty of Medicine, University of Newcastle will be on Campus on Thursday (October 10) and will give a colloquium and participate in a discussion at 12.30 in the Physics Lecture Theatre.

The Faculty of Medicine at Newcastle is rapidly achieving fame for its successful use of problem-based learning. Students are introduced first to the living problems that need to be solved, and later to the established knowledge used to deal with the problems. This is a reversal of normal teaching procedures, in a subject where the quantity of factual information that the student is required to learn is enormous. As well as describing what is done in Newcastle, Dr Felitti will address the question of the extent to which the technique is relevant to disciplines other than medicine.
