OPEN DAY/EXPO DRAWS 80,000

Last weekend's Open Day and the Radio 2WL 80's Lifestyle Expo again drew 80,000 members of the public to an event that is now an established date on the Wollongong calendar.

Most parts of the University campus were well attended, most notably Physics, Chemistry, Skylab, Kids Uni, Engineering and Geology. Those departments in the Pentagon Theatres also fared well, as did WUNDA and the Conservatorium of Music at the Library entrance.

Some criticisms have been made about "Expo's rampant consumerism" being unsympathetic to the University's search for truth, and that the two do not sit easily together. HPS lecturer, Jim Falk, probably captured the consensus view when he said that "It is up to the University to put on its best, and compete with the mass appeal of Expo." Twenty three of the academic departments showed their agreement with this idea by opening on Open Day. There is no doubt that the University of Wollongong's Open Day and Radio 2WL's 80's Lifestyle Expo are the cheapest, the best attended, and the most often held Town/Gown meeting place in Australia. The commercial side of the weekend was balanced by the attendance of forty-one non-profit community groups who used this popular occasion to communicate their message to the public.

VISITORS TO THE UNIVERSITY

by Tom Moore, Submissions and Research Contracts Officer.

On Thursday, 3rd October, Mr Peter Rylands of the Office of Special Development of the Premier's Department and Mr Stephen Loveday of the NSW Science and Technology Council, visited the University. Both were keen to inspect the campus and to learn of developments at first hand.

In the morning, they visited the Illawarra Technology Centre, where the Director, Mr John Anderson, explained its workings and conducted a tour of operations. The visitors then inspected the site of the proposed Planetarium where Mr Barry Harper, Secretary of the Planetarium Society, provided details of the proposals. In the absence of Dr M. Hough, Mr Tom Penrose of the School of Human Movement explained the operations of the School and its plans for future developments. Professor Stephen Hill, Co-Director of TASC and Dr Richard Badham then provided an outline of the functions of that Centre and its future plans.

After lunch with the Vice-Chancellor, Deputy Vice-Chancellor, Professor Peter Rousch, and the Acting University Secretary, Mr Jim Langridge, the visitors met with Mr Peter Sophios, of UniAdvice.

On Wednesday, 9th October, Mr David Barnes, Assistant Director of Electronics, Aerospace and Information Industries within the Department of Industry, Technology and Commerce paid a brief visit to the campus.

Mr Barnes' particular interests are in the area of Scientific Instruments, Telecommunications and Remote Sensing. He met with Dr Frank Paloni and Dr Andy Russell of the Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering and Dr David Martin and Dr Phil Simmonds of the Department of Physics and reviewed some of their research work.

Mr Barnes is interested in bringing the universities and industry closer together and believes that the recently announced scheme for 150% tax rebate on I.R. & D. and proposed changes to the Offsets Programme should be useful for this purpose.

ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

Students are reminded that the University regards academic misconduct as a very serious matter and they should note that the possession of unauthorized material during an examination, relevant to the examined subject, will result in an automatic failure for that subject and exclusion from the University.

UNIVERSITY WINS GARDEN COMPETITION

The University of Wollongong has once again been awarded 1st prize in the Public Institutions Section of the City of Wollongong 1985 Garden Competition. Credit must go to the gardening staff for their efforts in maintaining such a wonderful landscape.

DEPARTMENTAL VISITS BY FRIENDS

It has been the practice of the Friends in the past to organize visits by the Friends members to Departments and Schools. None were organized in 1985 because of the long service leave of the Executive Officer.

We propose to hold four Departmental and School visits in 1986.

The format of the visits is quite simple. The Department or School undertakes to have its staff available over an extended lunch period from 12 noon to 2 pm. The Friends members arrive at the Department and the staff explain the main areas of their teaching and research activities. This is followed by a luncheon which is paid for at the rate of about $8 per person attending, whether they are staff or Friends.

Chairmen of Departments and Schools have been asked to register an interest with the Friends Office, ext 3073, and so far two of the four visits have been claimed by the Department of Business Policy and Operations, and the Department of Geology.

Book of the Week

Dr Noeline Kyle has published a book on family history research. The book "Tracing Family History in Australia", is published by Methuen and will be released on Monday, 11th November. Dr Kyle became interested in family history research in the 1970's when researching the life and work of her great grandmother Mary Kirkpatrick, (a midwife who established the first private maternity hospital at Kempsey).

Since the 1970's Dr Kyle has conducted a number of workshops and courses on family history research in Newcastle and Wollongong. She was the founding president of the Newcastle Family History Society and was a founding member of the Illawarra Family History Group. In recent years the numbers of people interested in family history has grown rapidly and the local family history groups have provided a focal point for local activity of a varied kind. The local groups can be found currently involved in transcribing cemeteries, indexing newspapers, collecting resource material and planning and running workshops for local researchers.

Dr Kyle has been interested in providing educational support for the local groups and encouraging members to seek out new methods of research. Family history has many close links with local history, oral history and the 'new' social history. Some recognition of the growing importance of family history is its inclusion as a special theme in the program of the 1986 Australian Historical Association Conference to be held in Adelaide. Dr Kyle is currently preparing a paper for presentation at the conference on the relationships to be found between family history and local history.

Equal Employment Opportunity Project

EEO AWARENESS SEMINARS

She suggested ways in which Equal Employment Opportunity and Affirmative Action can be implemented in order to overcome the problems experienced by these groups.

CARNEGIE CORPORATION OF NEW YORK

The charter of the Corporation provides that all funds are to be used to promote "the advancement and diffusion of knowledge and understanding." Grants must be broadly educational in nature, but they need not be limited to the formal educational system or to educational institutions. The foundation makes it a policy to select a few areas in which to concentrate its grants over a period of years.

During the year ended September 30, 1984, the trustees approved 125 grants and appropriations, amounting to a total of $20,150,373. There were 122 grants, including 38 to schools, colleges, and universities and 82 to other organizations. Appropriations were also made for projects administered by the officers.

The Corporation's current grant programs focus on four broad goals. The first is the avoidance of nuclear war and improvement of relations between the United States and the Soviet Union. The second is the education of all Americans, especially youth, for a scientifically and technologically based society. The third is the prevention of damage to children and young adolescents. The fourth is the strengthening of human resources in developing countries.

The foundation does not operate scholarship, fellowship, or travel grant programs. It does not make grants for basic operating expenses, endowments, or facilities of educational or human service institutions.

There is no formal procedure for submitting a proposal. All that is necessary for preliminary consideration is a statement describing the aims and methods of the project, the personnel involved, and the amount of financial support required. The officers review all proposals in light of their knowledge of the field and in relation to the Corporation's current priorities. They ask for supplementary information or a meeting when either would be helpful in making a judgement.

A copy of the Corporation's 1984 Annual Report is available from Trevor Smith, ext 3079.
