BURKE'S LAW — Precedent for the Will of a Widower in Favour of Named Children:

(Edmund Burke, the perpetrator of this unprecedented precedent, some of whose provisions are as original as its spelling, was the first grantee of Portion 12, Parish of Wollongong, an area of 40 acres which included the present Crown Street from Keira Street (on the north side) and Church Street (on the south) to approximately the site of the railway line. It would be interesting to know whether the name of his daughter "Ellen Kinny" was more conventionally spelt Kenny, and whether Kenny Street, the upper end of which is within Burke's grant derived its name from her.

Edmund Burke died on 3rd February, 1848, two days after making his will. Unlike his more famous namesake, he evidently did not enjoy even the most distant acquaintance with the Great Lexicographer).
