Push and Pull Redfern

Nick Keys

Astrid Lorange

UTS

Lucas Ihlein

University of Wollongong, lucasi@uow.edu.au

Follow this and additional works at: https://ro.uow.edu.au/creartspapers

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons, and the Social and Behavioral Sciences Commons

Recommended Citation

Research Online is the open access institutional repository for the University of Wollongong. For further information contact the UOW Library: research-pubs@uow.edu.au
A few notes from the first night of Push and Pull at Locksmith Gallery…

As I mentioned in these pre-beginning ramblings, Nick and Astrid and I decided not to bust our butts hauling in a whole lot of furniture before the show. Instead, the idea was to incorporate the collecting of all the stuff which goes into Push and Pull, into the live public time-frame of the work itself.
So just before six on Thursday, people started trickling into … an empty room. A few people had been tipped off, and brought along small furnishings with them to get the ball rolling… a broken umbrella, some fake plant fronds, a urine-soaked cushion, a jigsaw puzzle…

Read the rest of this entry »

Pushing it…(some thoughts before we start)

Posted: May 27th, 2009 | Author: lucasmichaelihlein | Filed under: Day 0 | No Comments »

Tonight we’ll be cutting the ribbon, or at least, answering the doorbell, for the first Aussie manifestation of Allan Kaprow’s Push and Pull: A Furniture Comedy for Hans Hofmann.

Before it gets a-rolling, I thought I might just spend a moment thinking about the piece, and how we’re planning to do it…

As you might have guessed if you’ve been nosing around this website, Push and Pull is one of what Kaprow called his “environments” – kind of like early versions of what we’d call installations these days, but with the explicit intention that the work would evolve and change constantly, rather than being set up and left static like an abandoned stage set.

Read the rest of this entry »

Recent Comments

- Potatoes, Raspberries, Trees to graft… « tending on Day Six – Thursday June 11th: Timelapse & Notes
- Delpha Hudson on Objects of experience: Stein meets Whitehead meets Olson [meets] Kaprow, you & me
- Push and Pull Redfern » Blog Archive » Day Four - Friday 5th June: Timelapse and Notes on Day One – Friday 30th May: Timelapse and Notes