

AN EXTRAORDINARY PIECE OF EPHEMERA

This little blue entrance ticket recently surfaced in a Sydney junk shop just two weeks before the 110th anniversary of the Bulli Disaster. It's in mint condition and clearly shows how far-reaching was the impact of what was then the greatest land disaster in Australia. It is also very touching to think that the good citizens of Port Adelaide (many of whom were probably sailors in colliers shipping Bulli coal) were willing to make a significant financial contribution to the grieving families - which is a bit more than the mongrel Government and coal owners of the time were willing to do.
