

MOUNT KEIRA MINE TRAMWAY

Another conservation project is being planned in the vicinity of our harbour precinct. Members may have noticed how the City Council restored the remains of the old Mount Keira Mine Tramway bridge over what used to be Smith's Creek, in the corner of Osborne Park. Indeed, the Society has congratulated the Council on the restoration and associated landscaping.

Led by the Council's Coordinator of Cultural Development, Barbara Wheeler, a meeting was held on May 22 to discuss a funding application for an interpretive display marking the importance of this tramway to the region's history. Should the funding application succeed, the resulting display should offer more information than the usual plaque. Watch this page for the next instalment.
