Why I Write

Patricia Grace
Why I Write

Abstract
Sometimes when I am asked why I write I say it was because my father was a stationery manufacturer and I always had plenty of paper to write on. However, reading and writing was always something that interested me. As a child I was not an extrovert so that writing was one means of self-expression.
NEW ZEALAND
Why I Write

Sometimes when I am asked why I write I say it was because my father was a stationery manufacturer and I always had plenty of paper to write on. However, reading and writing was always something that interested me. As a child I was not an extrovert so that writing was one means of self-expression.