here but Harriett, after a stint in Sydney with an Ann Patten and perhaps other employers, married as his second wife, William Dumbrell - a shipboard romance perhaps?

Robert Carnell, variously described as a bricklayer or stonemason, had come out engaged to Captain Towns. Robert was a native of Chillhampton? Devon and the son of Thomas and Ann Carnell who were both living when Robert, Elizabeth and family sailed. Elizabeth, a native of Butterly, Devonshire was the daughter of John and Elizabeth Eldon? The name Carnell is not well known to us in Illawarra to-day but Robert and Elizabeth were having children in the Kiama and Gerringong area between 1845 and 1853. Mrs Bessie Nurse of Raymond Terrace, a great grand daughter of Michael and Cecelia Hindmarsh tells me that the Anglican churches of St John’s Raymond Terrace and St Barnabas, Booral as well as The Gables, the home he built at Booral, are memorials to his work. Did he leave his mark on Alne Bank also?

Captain Robert Towns (Captain of the ship Brothers) was a son-in-law of D’Arcy Wentworth, having married D’Arcy’s daughter Sophia in 1833.(1) Sophia was a half sister to William Charles Wentworth. Robert appears to have been living on the Wentworth’s Shellharbour Estate in the 1840s. He later went on to become the founder of Townsville.

Further information on most of these people may be learnt by consulting Archives Office Reels 2135 and 2451, which contain respectively the “Immigration Agents List” and the “Immigration Board List” for the Neptune. The latter reel is a most comprehensive source of information concerning the immigrants. A further source of material is Illawarra Pioneers Pre-1900. (2)

My sincere thanks to Mrs Bessie Nurse of Raymond Terrace and Fran Whalan of the Kiama Historical Society for their help.
